BLOW 2: CABINET MET ERE BEING NAMED TO SENATE

Visitors Informally Received;
No "Direct Quotation" Law
Goes Glimmering

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Wilson arose at 7 o'clock, after his first night spent in the White House. He shaved and breakfasted, then watched Private Secretary Tumulty sworn in. Later he went to his office and examined his official papers and mail.

When the President reached his office he was unable to find a chair, former President Taft having removed the great chair he had occupied. The office attaches finally unearthed a red leather chair that Roosevelt had used. This served as Wilson's first presidential seat.

The President's first visitor was Charles Crane of Chicago. His first official statement, dictated shortly after breakfast, read as follows:

"The President regrets to be obliged to announce that he deems it his duty to decline to see applicants for office personally, except when he himself invites them to the White House for an interview. It is his purpose to devote himself earnestly and constantly to the business of the government. He knows from experience as governor of New Jersey that the greater part of his time and energy would be spent in interviewing candidates for office unless he sets an invariable rule. It is his intention to deal with appointments through the heads of the several executive departments."

The President then dictated letters to the members of Mr. Taft's cabinet accepting their resignations.

"MORNING AFTER" LOOK OF THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The streets of the capital presented a "morning after" appearance. They are littered for miles with boxes and papers and decorations. The railroad stations were jammed with the departing crowds. The weather has been perfect today, in direct contrast to that of yesterday.

The majority of the governors of states and their staffs remained to pay their respects to President Wilson today.

FREIGHT RATES HEARING APRIL 4

R. R. Commission Sets Date;
Grants Reduced Rate Permit
for Bisby of Long Beach

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The State Railroad Commission has reset the date for a hearing in the investigation of Los Angeles and San Pedro rates for April 4.

The commission has issued an order permitting the Southern Pacific to grant reduced transportation rates to Secretary Bisby of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce when traveling for the organization he represents.

A FATAL EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE AT KENBROOK

SAN BERNARDINO, March 5.—A delayed explosion of a dynamite blast at Kenbrook, ten miles north of here, instantly killed Santa Fe Foreman J. Wilkinson, and a laborer, A. Gonzales, is believed to be fatally hurt, while Martin Hanahoe and eight others are severely injured.

Two blasts were set to explode simultaneously. When one went off the workmen believed both had exploded and ran to the excavation. They were thrown into the air when the second blast exploded.

Wilson Cabinet Appointments Sent to Senate

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Wilson today sent the following cabinet appointments to the senate:

Secretary of State—William J. Bryan of Nebraska.
Secretary of the Treasury—William McAdoo of New York.
Secretary of War—Lindley Garrison of New Jersey.

Secretary of the Navy—Josephus Daniels of North Carolina.
Secretary of the Interior—Franklin K. Lane of California.

Secretary of Agriculture—David Huston of Missouri.
Secretary of Commerce—William Redfield of New York.

Secretary of Labor—William Wilson of Pennsylvania.

Attorney General—James McReynolds of Tennessee.

Postmaster General—Albert Burleson of Texas.

Announcing his cabinet appointments, President Wilson issued the following statement: "Those knowing my affection and admiration for William McAdoo will wonder why his name is not on this list. Mr. McAdoo did not want a cabinet appointment. I have offered him one of the principal diplomatic posts and still hope he will accept."

COUNTY AFFAIRS CONSIDERED BY SUPERVISORS

Contracts Awarded for Painting Court House Roof and Other Work

County supervisors were in session all day today, following their work yesterday of approving the usual monthly grist of bills. The business transacted today was also largely of a routine nature and of no special importance. All the members were present.

The contract for painting the roof of the county court house was awarded to F. H. McElree for $730, the contractor guaranteeing his work to last at least one year.

C. M. Jordan had the lowest bid for making alterations and additions to the rooms in the east wing of the court house where it is proposed to locate the offices of the county surveyor and highway commissioners. His bid was $700 and it was accepted. Plans and specifications for these improvements were also accepted.

The petition from Westminster to have that school district annexed to the Huntington Beach Union High School district, was granted.

Superintendent W. P. Mitchell was authorized to purchase a sufficient supply of blank school warrants to last his department the next two years.

Contractor Black was allowed an additional five per cent on his contract for extra work required on the county jail.

W. H. Richardson, who had the plumbing contract at the county poor farm, was also allowed a public for something over $300 because of hardpan conditions encountered in his work.

UNEQUAL TO CALL FOR SCHOOL BOOKS

State Printing Office Can Print
But 500,000 to Meet Demand
in Fall for Millions

SACRAMENTO, March 5.—That the state printing office will be unable to print more than half the prospective fall demand for state text books was the statement of State Printer Richardson yesterday. Mr. Richardson says Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt has informed him 1,000,000 books will be needed and he can print only 500,000.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS CHOOSE NEW OFFICERS

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Democratic national committee today elected Homer Cummings of Connecticut as vice chairman, and Rolfe Welles of Missouri as treasurer. Cummings succeeds William McAdoo.

PRECEDENTS ARE SMASHED BY WILSON

Will See Applicants Only on His Personal Invitation to White House

FIRST DAY IN THE WHITE HOUSE FULL OF BUSINESS

Secretary Tumulty Sworn In;
Chas. Crane Was First of Many Prominent Visitors

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Smashing precedents right and left, President Wilson made official Washington sit up and gasp. The first blow at red tape was the announcement that he would let heads of departments dispose of the patronage unhindered.

The second came when he held a cabinet meeting before its membership was announced to the senate. His office department also caused a sensation when he received a delegation of one hundred New York admirers who did not even have an appointment. He sat with the office door wide open and as scores of persons wandered in unannounced they were warmly received. Secretary Tumulty mingled with the newspaper men answering questions and aiding them in every way possible. News, paper photographers were allowed in the outer office to photograph notables.

The final touch came when Secretary Tumulty announced that hereafter the unwritten law which forbids the President to be directly quoted will be a law no longer. He announced that he is preparing a plan to receive newspaper men at stated periods, when there will be no objection to direct quotations.

The cabinet held its first meeting today, adjourning at 11 o'clock. Secretary of State Bryan said nothing was done except to get acquainted. All the members chatted with reporters and visitors.

Former Speaker Cannon called early to pay his respects to President Wilson and to congratulate the new cabinet. He said: "I came around to see the men who are newly born. Now I am going to various departments to say farewell to the men who have just died." He referred to the retiring cabinet officers.

IS AFRAID THEY WILL SHOOT HIM

Turner's Brother Fears That It Will Be Alleged Attempt to Escape

SECRETARY OF STATE SENDS A MESSAGE

Letter Received by the Prisoner's Wife Tells of His First Arrest

A number of friends of John Kenneth Turner, author of "Barbarous Mexico," who is in jail in Mexico City, are joining in an effort to get official action to guarantee Turner's safe deportation. Turner's brother, Prof. R. Izer Turner, teacher of manual training in the Anaheim Union High School and formerly principal of the Ocean View School, yesterday received the following telegram from Secretary of State Knox:

"With reference to the department's telegram of Feb. 27, you are informed that a subsequent report from the embassy states that unofficial information has been received that the authorities at Mexico City have decided acting under the provisions of Article 3 of the Mexican constitution to expel Turner from Mexico as an undesirable foreigner who is at present exciting anti-American feeling and sending exaggerated newspaper stories to the United States. The department has instructed the embassy to request in case the authorities have determined to deport Turner that he be given a reasonable time to arrange his personal and business affairs and that his deportation be effected without any unnecessary severity."

"KNOX," Secretary of State.

Prof. Turner is not satisfied with the arrangements as reported to him in the telegram from Secretary of State Knox.

"I am afraid," said he, "that the Mexicans will start for the border with him, and on the way shoot him under pretext that he is attempting to escape. I would like to have the American embassy demand of the Mexican authorities that my brother's safety be guaranteed. I think that he ought to be turned over to the embassy and by Americans escorted out of the country."

Prof. Turner wired to Washington last night asking that a guarantee for safe deportation be given.

Prof. Turner has received a letter from his mother, who lives at Carmel with John's wife, in which part of a letter from John to his wife is included. John stated that he was taken to jail and there his camera, field-glasses and $50 were taken from him, and never recovered. From his window in the jail he saw some of the fighting. He was lined up to be shot, possibly to try his nerve. After his release, on Feb. 24, he was again arrested, and has since been in jail. Disparates have stated that there was a plan to execute him.

Turner went to Mexico City last October and wrote for El Pais, the biggest newspaper of the city. Turner's sympathies have always been against the Diaz administration, which was attacked bitterly in his book.

MYSTERY DEEPENS AS TO DEATHS IN CANYON

Santa Monica Police Get Another In Post Card Series on the Deaths of Miss Soards and Unknown Man
Found Near That Place

SANTA MONICA, March 5.—Chief of Police Randall has received an anonymous postcard under date of Los Angeles, yesterday, saying that the police want information as to the death of Nettie Soards and the unidentified man, whose bodies were recently found in Dead Man's Canyon, to ask questions through the Los Angeles papers and the writer will answer. He declares the police cannot get him through his cards, because the author "can write all sorts of ways." Chief Randall is uncertain whether the card is a hoax or not, but is investigating.

The note read: "Don't never figure you can get me by my writing, as I can write all sorts of ways. If you want to ask questions about Harry Meyers and Miss Soards you can write to the papers and I'll answer by mail so you can clear up the case pretty near, except catching me. Yours truly." (Unsigned.)

The first card, received last Monday, said the man's body was that of Harry Meyers. An unidentified man called at the Morgue today and viewed the body. He said it was Harry Meyers, a Western Union telegraph operator of Los Angeles. He disappeared without giving his name.

NO HARRY MEYERS EVER ON TELEGRAPH FORCE

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—The chief operators of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies here say that no Harry Meyers has ever been employed, now or at any time, according to their records. The police bureau of missing persons has no report of such a person as missing.

Declares Physicians Hinder Dr. Friedmann—Girl Dies Awaiting Cure

NEW YORK, March 5.—"Great God, men, people are dying while this talk is going on. Give Dr. Friedmann a square deal and let him prove the worth of his cure."

This was the impassioned statement of Charles Finlay, the millionaire banker in bitterly denouncing the alleged action of physicians and others in placing obstacles in Friedmann's way to demonstrate his reputed cure. He openly charges that Dr. Friedmann cannot even rent offices for his demonstrations. He declares that condemnation before a test is "unfair and un-American." Finlay said:

"Thousands of consumptives are waiting for a definite announcement regarding the treatment. Can't the New York doctors understand what this means to the unfortunate sufferers? Where is the vaunted American fairness? I had promised little Miss Miller, the daughter of the postmaster of Little Neck, Long Island, she should have a chance at the cure. Today she died. Something must be done."

Finlay recently offered Friedmann a million dollars if he could cure ninety-five of the first hundred cases treated.

WIRELESS MAKES DISTANCE RECORD

public Wireless Operators

The operators estimated the distance as being between 5000 and 6000 miles from the Newport station. The officers say that this feat was stand as a record in wireless work.

LEARNING POLITICS

Government is as old as man; men have always been politicians; the men of today are only politicians of a particular school; the past furnishes examples of politicians of every other school, and there is as much to be learned about government from them as from their successors.—Woodrow Wilson.

CITY OF MISSION BUILDINGS

The plan for a city of "mission" buildings at the San Diego exposition of 1915 has been approved universally by architects everywhere.

DARROW CASE NEARING END

Judge Powers Made Impassioned Speech For Darrow;
Scored Harrington to Finish

JURY LIKELY TO GET FAMOUS CASE TOMORROW

Darrow Will Speak in His Own Defense—Ford Will Make
Closing Argument

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Former Judge Orlando W. Powers opened the final arguments for the Darrow defense. The dignity of the law, the working out of a "reasonable doubt" theory and an attack on the prosecution testimony marked Judge Powers' oratory. He charged the prosecution with unfair tactics in presenting evidence adduced in the former Darrow trial.

He called Bert Franklin a confirmed criminal, and also called the prosecution witness, Attorney John Harrington, a "despicable creature," and the dictagraph an instrument of the devil. He shouted to the jury:

"When all men were animals, Harrington must have crawled on his belly, licked up the dust of the earth, and leered on the passers by from beneath a bush."

The case will probably go to the jury tomorrow.

Judge Powers today trod back and forth with his hair disheveled, his vest unbuttoned and his necktie under his ear. "What strong hand has the district attorney by the throat to make him pursue Darrow? It is a frame-up. The war cry is to convict Darrow or break him. He is prosecuting him because he dared to defend labor. I have as much evidence to show that Franklin got that bribe money from the National Erectors' Association as the prosecution has to show that he got it from Darrow."

Earl Rogers, if he is able and Darrow himself will follow Powers. Ford will close for the state.

Judge Wheaton A. Gray yesterday in his opening argument for the prosecution enumerated thirty reasons why the evidence, circumstantial and direct, pointed to the guilt of the defendant attorney.

The prosecutor scathingly arraigned Mr. Darrow. He referred in his arguments to him as a crook and a criminal. He ended one of his thunderous denunciations with this statement:

"The greatest power for evil in the United States today is Clarence Darrow."

He referred to Mr. Darrow's philosophy as "once a criminal, always a criminal," and that "a criminal who leaves his co-criminals and co-conspirators is a traitor."

BALKANS PEACE REPORTED REACHED

100,000 FEDERAL OFFICES ARE "SPOILS"

President Wilson Has $30,000,000 of Patronage Value to Give His Followers

HE IS LIKELY TO PROVE SLOW IN OFFICE GIFTS

May Take Refuge in Civil Service from Horde of Hungry Office Seekers

WASHINGTON, March 5.—In keeping with the time-respected adage, "To the victors belong the spoils," 100,000 Federal, Republican officeholders, today were placed at the mercy of their captors—the leaders of the newly inaugurated Democracy—and pleaded for protection from the horde of hungry, stampeding patronage hunters which seeks to turn them out of office.

President Wilson, as the Democratic leader, has an immense amount of patronage to give his followers.

BANNER MILLS.

Roughly estimated, it has been valued at $30,000,000. Of course, much depends on how rigidly he construes the civil service laws and much depends upon his stand against the on-rushing horde which insists, in direct opposition to his expressed views, that even the meritorious officeholders be ousted and those of the Democratic faith be installed.

Never before have the Democratic job seekers been so insistent or hungry. Even in the Cleveland administration when they made life miserable for their chieftain by their persistent cries for "pie" they were of smaller and more inconsequential number. Today they are in greater force. The government has expanded and grown since the Cleveland regime and this is their first opportunity to participate in its increased possibilities.

Many of the Democratic leaders expressed their belief today that President Wilson will take refuge behind the civil service laws as far as possible their belief today that President Wilson will replace Republicans with Democrats as the terms of the incumbents expire, but he will not be in a rush about it. Only in the instances where ambassadors, ministers, high federal officials, and appointees for the more important posts are to be made it is expected that immediate shifts will be made.

This policy, it is admitted, will not satisfy the insistent Democrats who demand immediate reward for their political affiliations during the campaign. They will inaugurate a move to have the president make a general reorganization of the executive departments, the place where the "pie" is stored, and furthermore will request that former President Taft's order, classifying about 36,000 fourth-class postmasters, be rescinded and these places opened to them. The consular service also will be attacked in an effort to discover further places of "abode" for the Democratic prospectors.

The total number of officers and employees of the government, excluding army and navy, is 414,778. Of the total, over 300,000 are protected by the civil service. This leaves about 100,000 whose positions are at the mercy of the new administration. The salaries of these amount roughly to $30,000,000. The number of direct appointees is only 10,582. Of these 9,949 must be confirmed by the senate. The great bulk of the 100,000 jobs in control of the president are filled by the chiefs of the various executive departments and it is recognized that if the administration wants to get control of these places it can find a way to do so.

Representative Hull of Tennessee has charged that Taft, while president "issued the proclamation retaining 36,000 postmasters in office for life, tenure, on the very eve of election" and that the order is a "perversion of the merit system."

He has charged further that it is the duty of President Wilson to suspend the order and issue a rule under which the 36,000 postmasters will be available as "pie" for the Democratic job hunters. Such a demand will be made upon the president.

The rush of the office-seekers has only begun. Washington is chock full of them. They commenced to arrive long before the election and have invaded the offices of Representatives and Senators ever since, attempting to

SIXTY SECOND CONGRESS' LABORS

Many Important Measures Passed and Far Reaching Probes Pushed Through

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Little was accomplished during the last session of the Sixty-second Congress, except passage of the appropriation bills. The resolution of Senator Works limiting tenure of Presidents to a single term of six years passed the Senate, but "died" in the House. The House also sent to the Senate the bill of Representative Adamson of Georgia for physical valuation of all railroads.

The principal public enactments of the first session of the last Congress were:

Canadian reciprocity treaty.
Increase of representation in the House from 393 to 435.
Publicity of campaign contributions.

Admission of Arizona and New Mexico to statehood.
Extradition treaty with Salvador.

Second investigation ordered of Senator Lorimer.

Appropriation of $250,000 to raise the battleship Maine.

Votes of wool, cotton, steel, and free farm machinery tariff bills.

In the second session the principal legislation was:

Establishment of the Child Labor Bureau.

Making naval cadets ensigns upon graduation.

Prohibiting manufacture of white phosphorus matches.

Appropriations for Mississippi flood victims.

Sherwood pension law.

Prohibiting interstate commerce in prize fight moving picture films.

Radio regulation.

Establishing commission on industrial relations.

Providing territorial assembly for Alaska.

Negotiating for seal treaty.

Panama canal tolls and administration act.

Granting medal to Capt. Arthur H. Rostron of steamship Carpathia for services rescuing Titanic survivors.

exact promises of reward. Spurred on by the fact that their constituents are involved in the scramble and that their own futures depend upon their success in "landing something for the people back home," even the congressmen will aid in making President Wilson's existence in the White House an uncomfortable one between now and next spring.

Franklin K. Lane's Appointment

BY J. T. BELCHER

LAN'S APPOINTMENT ... these people it is doubtful if there is one who has not felt a sincere, unbounded pleasure in his advancement to the distinguished place accorded him by the Chief Magistrate of this nation.

A quarter of a century's acquaintanceship, which at times was of a close and confidential nature the professional and public life of Mr. Lane, has given me opportunities to appreciate his splendid personality. And if I were to attempt to designate his greatest charm, it would be to claim it for his unselfishness, his vigorous loyalty, his unbending insistence upon truth, honor and upright manhood. Without these qualifications no man can hold his confidence.

Men like Franklin K. Lane are too few. Those who know him well hold him in the highest possible esteem. They do not love him alone for the enemies he may have made, if he has made any through his championship of the rights and welfare of all the people all the time; rather, they love him for the good that he has done; for the high inspiration that he has given to others.

More than a quarter of a century Mr. Lane has devoted to the public weal. Every hour of his life has been devoted to the people. He has enjoyed his life's work, to be sure, and it has brought him high honors and the admiration and respect of his fellow Americans. And he has served no other master nor any other interest; not even his own interest, for Lane is today a poor man so far as worldly possessions are concerned. He is surely he is rich in the love and loyalty of all who know him.

Appointing Mexican war claims commission.

Lengthening army enlistment to four years.

Abolishing tariff commission and limiting appropriations for commerce court.

Declaring "vacant" the Senate seat of William Lorimer.

Ordering investigation of Commerce Court Judge Archibald.

Negotiation of peace, wireless and fishing treaties.

Steel, money, shipping and beef trust investigations and Clapp committee's campaign contributions inquiry.

The impeachment trial of Judge Archibald practically monopolized the Senate's time from December 3, 1912, until his ouster in January. Supply bills in the House caused similar congestion.

Since December, however, the House refused to authorize purchase of Thomas Jefferson's home at Monticello by the government; passed the Adamson railroad physical valuation bill, the Webb bill, limiting interstate shipment of liquor, and the Burnett immigration bill. The latter and the Webb bill were also passed by the Senate.

Canvasses of the electoral vote and memorial services for former Vice President Sherman were also features of this winter's session.

Among the prominent representatives retiring from public life yesterday were the following Republicans: Former Speaker Cannon and Representatives McKinley, Bruce, and Henderson of Illinois, Hill and Higgins of Connecticut, Crumpacker of Indiana, Gardner and McCall of Massachusetts, Longworth of Ohio, Ballz of Pennsylvania, and Victor Berger of Wisconsin, the lone Socialist.

The new House, with increased membership, will have 435 members, 291 Democrats, and 144 Republicans and Progressives. Because of the increased congressional apportionment, the House today looked for the last time on its familiar mahogany desks and swivel chairs. Benches, similar to those in the House of Commons in London, will replace the desks during the recess before the extra session convenes.

PRESIDENT WILSON
KISSED 119TH PSALM
WHEN HE TOOK OATH

WASHINGTON, March 5.—When Woodrow Wilson, the new President of the United States, swore yesterday to uphold and defend the constitution he stooped and kissed the open Bible, held in the hands of James B. Maher, deputy clerk of the supreme court. His lips touched the page, turned to at random, and fell upon the 119th Psalm, forty-third and forty-eighth verses, inclusive.

The verses, beginning with the forty-first, are these:

"Let Thy mercies come also unto me, O Lord, even Thy salvation, according to Thy word."

"So shall I have herewith to answer him that reproacheth me; for I trust in Thy word."

"And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in Thy judgments."

"So shall I keep Thy law continually forever and ever."

"And I will walk at liberty; for I seek Thy precepts."

"I will speak of Thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed."

"And I will delight myself in Thy commandments which I have loved."

"My hands also will I lift up unto Thy commandments, which I have loved; and I will meditate in Thy statutes."

Let Me Prove to You That I Can Cure You

Dr. Edwin Wm. Raymond

For the past twenty years I have confined my practice to all chronic, neural, nervous, blood and skin diseases of men and women. During that time I have restored to health many of the worst cases imaginable of eumatism, Partial Paralysis, Liver, Stomach and Bladder trouble, rheumatism, Prostatitis, Gallstones, Appendicitis, Men's Weakness, Female Leucorrhea, Discharges, Partial Deafness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Eczema, Skin Diseases, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Piles, Fistulas, Blood Poisons and Worms. I have hundreds of testimonials on file to prove that I am able to CURE when other methods and medicines have failed.

If you are sick, if you have been doctoring a long time and getting no better, if you have spent out many hundreds of hard earned dollars in doctor's bills, if you are discouraged and have given up hope, LET ME PROVE TO YOU THAT I CAN CURE YOU. Many cases yield to my method of treatment in one week's time. No matter how stubborn your case is, I believe that I can prove in one week's time that I can cure you.

This Man Lay Bed-Ridden For Nine Long Months

Suffered With a Strange Ailment That Doctors Could Not Diagnose

In the little town of Catlettsburg, Ky., David Hall, whose photograph appears to the left, lay bed-ridden for nine, terrible months. His body appeared to be dead, that is, he seemed deprived of the power of motion, yet his mind was clear, active and alive. He could converse intelligently with friends and relatives. He suffered terrible pain almost constantly. His body was covered with bed sores and so thin that he seemed but a shadow.

Doctors came from far and near to consult regarding this strange case. Specialists of spinal trouble were appealed to. Men who had given a life time to the study of the nervous system and to the successful treatment of all ailments arising therefrom were called in to give their opinion. One and all of these great specialists were baffled and were forced to confess that no case in their vast experience could give them a hint as to what might be the trouble with Mr. Hall.

Each and every one gave as his opinion that Mr. Hall could not possibly live many days longer. The appetite that had sustained him for so many months was rapidly leaving him. Finally, there came a day when his stomach, eaten by strong medicines, rebelled at the very thought of food and Mr. Hall's physicians advised him that the end was near.

Truth, they say, is stranger than fiction. It is not always the expected that happens. Just at this darkest hour when all hope was abandoned, there was printed in the daily papers of Memphis, Tenn., the account of Mrs. J. E. Holland who was made to walk two years after her back had been broken in a cyclone and she had been a helpless cripple in a wheel chair—her case having been given up as hopeless by a number of prominent doctors. THE MAN WHO PERFORMED THIS SEEMING MIRACLE WAS DR. EDWIN RAYMOND OF TELEVIDA FAME.

David Hall's only wish was that he might be carried to Memphis on a stretcher to see this wonderful German doctor. A few days later in Memphis, a man, more dead than alive, was brought into Dr. Raymond's office. This man was David Hall. The doctor did not care to accept the case for he realized the seriousness of the man's condition, but the hope that Mrs. Holland's case had kindled in the heart of David Hall would not be denied and he was put under treatment.

It is almost beyond belief—yet true in every respect—that David Hall rapidly improved in health and strength and that he was able to return to his home town two weeks later, feeling stronger and better than he had for nearly two years.

When asked how it was done, Dr. Raymond modestly disclaimed any superior knowledge and frankly admitted that he did not know exactly what cured Mr. Hall. "Nor did I waste much time in trying to find out," said the doctor. "I simply treated him in a common sense manner. First I established a healthy circulation of the blood, then toned up the stomach so the patient could digest plain, nutritious food, then toned up the entire system and my efforts were rewarded with Mr. Hall's rapid return to health."

What He Has Done for Others He Can and Will Do for You.

Dr. Raymond's practice has grown so large in Santa Ana that he has decided to make regular monthly visits to the Allerton Hotel here. TOMORROW, THURSDAY, THE 6TH, is the day selected for his third visit. He invites any sick or ailing person to call and see him at the hotel tomorrow, consult with him free of charge and let him advise you as to what you must do to become strong and well again. Sick people cannot afford to miss this opportunity of getting an expert's opinion. It will be another month before he calls again and much can happen in a month. You might just as well start tomorrow upon the road to health.

If your case is in the curable class—Dr. Raymond can cure you. If your case is incurable, he will frankly tell you so and reject the case. Whatever you do, DON'T FAIL to see him TOMORROW at the ALLERTON HOTEL. Office hours: 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. CONSULTATION FREE.

ENDORSES NO SALE MEASURE

Local Fish and Game Protective Association Expresses Its Opinion
No-Sale of Surf Fish as Well as of Game Meets With Decided Approval

The Orange County Fish and Game Protective Association last night endorsed the bill that proposes to prohibit the sale of game. This bill is one of the fish and game bills that will be fought the hardest in the legislature, as the markets of San Francisco, which receive one-fourth of the ducks killed in the state each year, are fighting it.

The association last night took the attitude that no-sale is a protection to the game.

Endorsement was also given a bill that prohibits the sale of surf fish.

A number of bills providing better protection for salmon and black and striped bass were given endorsement. Another measure that met with favor was one allowing a hunter to ship twenty-five pounds of dried deer meat from an open district to a closed district, provided a permit and affidavit are produced.

The resignation of Dale Peters as secretary was accepted, and John Carlyle was elected in his place.

W. L. Grubb, president of the association, appointed H. J. Forgy, T. E. Stephenson and D. Dobson as a committee to further the establishment of a state game preserve in the Irvine hills.

Only a portion of the fish and game bills were available last night. A complete list of bills is given below.

KEEP YOUR LIVER AND 30 FEET OF BOWELS CLEAN WITH DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

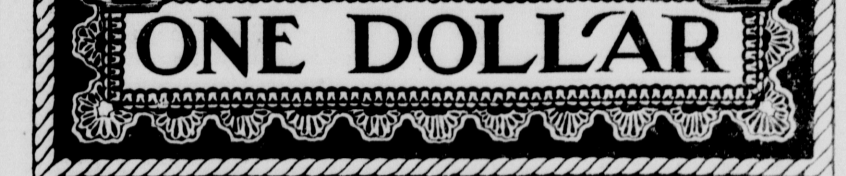

Removes foul gases, sour bile and the clogged-up waste without gripe or nausea—No headache, sour, bilious stomach, coated tongue or constipation

Primitive folks did not need laxatives. They lived outdoors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat little fruit, and our food is too fine—too rich.

We simply can't have our ten yards of bowels clogged up, liver choked with sour bile and stomach full of foul effete matter and feel well. It means that the food and waste retained in the stomach and thirty feet of bowels ferments—decays. The decay creates poisons, gases and acids, and those poisons are sucked into the blood through the very ducts intended to suck in the nutriment. Then we have sick headache, become dull, bilious, tongue coated, nervous, meals not digested, and we feel miserable all over. So we must make our choice.

We must live like primitive folks, else we must take artificial means to move the excess bile and waste matter out of the system. The safest, most harmless and effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator for men, women and children—is delicious Syrup of Figs, which doesn't irritate, gripe or weaken. Its effect is the effect of fruits. It is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics. Don't think you are drugging yourself. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without harm.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and see on the label that it is prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. This is the only genuine—the old reliable—Figs, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrup imitations, sometimes of over. So we must make our choice.

THE DOWNFALL OF RENO

There will be mourning among the high-ups now that Reno, the reverse Gretna Green of the Western Slope, has fallen from its delectable pre-eminence. For Nevada has passed a law requiring a year's residence for a divorce.

"United we stand, divided we stand it better" has been called the slogan of Reno's notorious colony.

Reno's trade has been growing more difficult as the fame of its successes has spread. Formerly Nevada granted a divorce in any county in which the defendant shall reside or "be found." Literally that permitted a jarring pair to stop off from the Overland express, get their divorce and possibly depart by the next train.

About four years ago, six months "residence" was established as necessary. And two years ago a New York court held invalid a Nevada divorce in which the defendant had not appeared in the state, either in person or by counsel.

The permissions of Nevada law have nevertheless been elastic. "Cruelty" has many grades and distinctions, and "failure to provide the common necessities of life" is generously inconclusive. Would the lack of a 1913 automobile fit that definition? "Residence," too, has had attractive possibilities. In one of those "Vade mecum" liberally distributed throughout the east, where the prime rose path of Reno divorce is set forth as in Baedeker, one learns that the entire six months need not be spent within the confines of Nevada. A "residence" having been established "in good faith," one may travel at will and return when one feels like it.

The shades of the prison house are closing about many people who have a history and are seeking to unmake it. The Dakotas put up the bars one notch, and Nevada follows. The world is all too wobbly about its ideals of marriage, but even Reno seems to feel that the wedding march and all those things the minister said were not wholly a joke.

RURAL SCHOOL NEEDS

The Russell Sage Foundation's comparative investigation of public school standing is spurring individual states to improve their rural schools. In Missouri, one of the states whose standing was called low by the Sage inquiry, the legislature is struggling with a group of measures designed to place the state on a higher ground educationally. Aid to rural schools is a prominent feature in these measures.

Missouri is not the only state in which this problem is still far from being solved.

Consolidation of rural schools and transportation of outlying children to central buildings is bringing up a race of youngsters who are too luxurious to walk a mile to the schoolroom. Still, on the whole it has been a progressive measure.

The one great fault of rural schools today is inability to pay a living wage to teachers. The fledgeling "school marm" fresh from the theories and books of the normal course, is "tried on the dog" out in the country. If she is any good at it, some city school board gathers her in at an advanced salary the second or third year, leaving the farmer's boy and girl to get their instruction from a rotation of inexperience.

The theory of the American school is that good instruction is needed for the safety and prosperity of the state. The country boy needs it quite as much as the country girl. The state must help liberally to equalize these conditions.

It will be of little use to promote "back to the farm" movements, if those who do go back must put up with the leanings in the way of teachers and equipment. You can't have poor schools and good farming in the same neighborhood.

GOUNOD'S TEST.

The Budding Composer Changed His Schoolmaster's Opinion.

When Gounod was at the school of one who was called the good Papa Pierson he was constantly scribbling musical notes. One day the school master sent for him into his study.

"Your parents complain," said Pierson. "They do not wish any musician in their family. You must be a professor."

"Never!"

"Your only choice is between Greek and Latin."

"But I will be a musician," said Gounod.

"You will? Give it up, I say; it is no profession at all. However, we will just see what you can do. Here's pen and paper. Compose for me a new air to Joseph's words, 'A peine un sortit de l'enfance!'"

It was the recreation hour. Before the bell sounded for the studies to begin again Gounod came back with his paper completely covered.

"Already?" cried Pierson. "Well, sing it then!"

Gounod sang and accompanied himself and so deeply affected poor Papa Pierson that with tears he pressed him in his arms and exclaimed:

"Oh, my dear boy! Henceforth they may say what they like, but a musician you shall be and nothing else."—From the German.

UNIT OF MAGNETISM

The electron, or unit of electricity, is now supposed to form a material part of the atoms of the various elements and Prof. Pierre Weiss has attempted to prove that a similar particle, which he calls the "magneton," is the unit of magnetism. In testing his theory he has made numerous experiments on magnetization at very low temperatures. He has found confirmation of his view, and believes he has shown the presence of magneton in the atoms of iron, nickel, cobalt, copper, manganese and the metals of the rare earths.

MR. HOFFMASTER REPLIES

To J. N. Bill, Fellow Citizen: Your letter to Senator Anderson in the Register of Feb. 25 was noted. It was a splendid effort. Particularly the last paragraph should be studied. It must take the brain of a real "Stand Pat" Republican or one high in the ranks of Democracy to write so much wisdom in so few words.

"Every voter should receive pay for a full day's time for voting." Also, "Eliminate all persons from voting except taxpayers." We should also allow ten votes extra for each hundred thousand dollars accumulated and a few extra after the million mark has been passed. This would be very nice, particularly as the millionaires would receive their per diem in proportion to their income.

We might eliminate all the fuss and worry of marking our ballots by having Rockefeller and Morgan select a president and congress. H. G. Otis and the S. P. might like to appoint our state officials, and there you are. Perhaps it would be better to just have a czar or a supreme court.

Then in regard to taxes: Mr. Bill would eliminate the poll tax. Think of that. Would it not be better to increase the poll tax and raise the rate on all valuations less than $1500? By this course we would save much tax dodging and perjury on the part of the very rich. It would also be a great relief to the overworked secretaries of such.

All these things would be great for the upper crust and "the great unwashed" have not sense enough to kick effectively. They are learning slowly and steps must be taken at once to prevent the spread of Socialism.

You might do some good missionary work by attending the Socialist Lyceum lectures. If you will, through this column, agree to attend the meetings I will agree to ask the Socialists of Santa Ana to allow you a half-hour to show up the errors in reasoning of the various speakers. I believe you would be given the floor and someone should surely attend who can do something to prevent the increase of these agitators. They are becoming so numerous that all the old parties will have to unite to crush them out. Will you not help in the good work?

Respectfully,
B. HOFFMASTER.

INAUGURAL GOWNS

How the Women of President Wilson's Party Dressed for Inaugural Event

Every woman who is concerned in pretty dressing—and what right-minded woman is not?—will be interested in knowing just how the new "First Lady of the Land" was gowned for the inaugural ceremonies.

Mrs. Wilson wore a costume of gray cloth, trimmed with golden brown ribbed silk; coat of same material and small hat with trimmings of same shades.

The other women of the presidential party were attired as follows:

Miss Margaret Wilson—Blue silk poplin dress, silk poplin coat of the same shade, hat of blue taupe feathers, and embroidered ribbon.

Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson—Lavender broadcloth dress trimmed with silk and chiffon, with lace collar, small hat of silk of same shade, and shaded feathers.

Miss Eleanor Wilson—Bright blue cloth dress, with silk brocade coat, hat of blue straw with roses in shades of orange.

Miss Helen Woodrow Bones—Gray-colored dress, gray hat with red feather.

Club Girls Were Entertained

The members of the club of which Miss Leslie Smith and Miss Robbie Jones are members were delightfully entertained last night by the young ladies mentioned, the affair taking place at the E. B. Smith home on South Birch street.

The two hostesses gave the party to celebrate their respective birthdays, both occurring in March. In honor of yesterday being Inauguration Day for a president of the United States, the house was gay with American flags.

Even the guessing games, enjoyed during the evening, were significant of the star spangled banner. The jolly evening was ended with the enjoyment of delicious refreshments.

Besides the two hostesses, Misses Smith and Jones, there were present at this merry affair Misses Olive and Lotta Cloyes; Misses Mary and Bernice Shewsbury; Misses Laura Fenstermacher, Bess Hill, Mary Smart, Caroline Eagleson, Mary Wood, Mamie Prigittwell, Susan Claycomb, Blanche McDowell; Mrs. Herbert Rankin, Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Mrs. E. B. Sprague.

THE GILBERT DINNER

Pleasant Function Followed by Whist at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert

Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, who has established an enviable reputation as a hostess, is much given to entertaining with small affairs rather than with the larger functions. The dinner parties at which she is a frequent hostess are particularly enjoyable.

One of these pleasant dinners was given last evening at the charming Gilbert home on South Main street. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Parke Roper, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kendall and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner. Violets adorned the house and used with ferns mingled with the pretty table appointments. The same dainty flower embellished the after dinner mints, and violet ribbons were used in tying the white prizes.

The five-course dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock and the evening following the dinner chat was spent in whist. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall were the couple winning the first prize, a pretty embroidered towel. Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner were awarded a handsome deck of California souvenir cards for consolation.

HER 84TH BIRTHDAY

Very beautiful was the birthday celebration of which Mrs. J. T. Newell was yesterday the central figure and which was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Asa Vandermast, on North Main street. The occasion for the festivities was Mrs. Newell's eighty-fourth birthday.

A table exquisitely appointed and decked in violets was set in the dining room and about this were gathered Mrs. Newell and her children. A handsome cake adorned with violet tints and eighty-four birthday candles occupied the center of the table. Those at this table of honor were Mrs. J. M. Newell, the honoree; T. N. Newell and wife, D. F. Newell and wife, W. G. Newell and wife, J. P. Newell and wife of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Vandermast.

At another table, set in the living room, which like the parlor, was decorated in pink, were seated the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Mrs. Newell. Here were seen Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lyday, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prince and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vandermast and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Vandermast and baby; Miss Evangeline Newell, Mrs. Wilson, mother of Mrs. Joie Newell; and Edward Newell of Long Beach.

The presence of T. N. Newell was a joyful surprise as he has been ill in a Colorado hospital and his arrival was entirely unexpected. Many beautiful gifts were presented to Mrs. Newell by her devoted relatives.

Visited Mission Play

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Callan of West Elgin street, Mr. and Mrs. McArthur and Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, the two latter of Grangeville, Idaho, and now visiting the McArthurs, motored to Pasadena yesterday, taking their luncheon with them. The luncheon was eaten al fresco, the party choosing the Pasadena park for their dining place.

They visited the sunken gardens later, after which the road for San Gabriel was taken. Arriving at that place, they visited the Mission Play, with which they were greatly delighted. Return to Santa Ana was made in the evening, the party reaching here shortly after 7 o'clock.

Good Meeting

The Parent-Teachers Association met at Spurgeon school yesterday and witnessed two pretty little drills of the first and second grades. A Round Table was conducted by Mrs. Frank McElree on the following topics:

"Is it a good plan to humiliate a child as a means of correction?"

"Does the teacher understand the average child sufficiently? If not, whose fault is it?"

The mothers and teachers were nearly unanimous in voting that it is not best to humiliate a child, and they also decided that blame rested about equally upon parents and teachers.

A vote of thanks was desired to be given to the White Cross Drug Store for appropriation of several beautiful pictures.

The mother's entertainment, "The Deedrick Skule," will be put on the latter part of March.

A social hour and light refreshments followed.

Prof. Cranston complimented the association on the attendance and enthusiasm of the parents and teachers.

High School Meeting Tomorrow
The High School Parent-Teachers' Association meeting will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the high school building, instead of today as announced yesterday. The program includes an address by Rev. Paul E. Wright on "How to Teach Pupils to Respect the Property of Others."

A social hour will follow the program and refreshments will be served. The program in full is as follows: Song in French—Ruth Raymond. Piano Solo—Linna Yarnell. Song in Spanish—Anna Walker, Eva Martin, Horace Stevens. Remarks—Mrs. Yarnell, Mrs. Jayne, Mrs. Winogler.

Address, How to Teach Pupils to Respect the Property of Others—Rev. Paul E. Wright. Discussion.

Bridge Whist

Mrs. George Briggs yesterday afternoon was hostess to the Bridge Whist Club to which she belongs. In the games, Mrs. Cal D. Lester was prize winner.

Following the games refreshments were served in the dining room, the prettily arranged table having a basket of jonquils as a center piece.

The guests of the afternoon included Mesdames Russell Scott, W. Lloyd Grubb, C. S. Kendall, Earl S. Morrow, Wm. Malone, Cal D. Lester, Wm. H. Lutz, Clyde Walker, Robert Shaffer, H. P. Duckett, O. K. Forgy, Fred Ross.

CHIEF BOOSTERS OF COUNTY IN SESSION

Men who make it their business to keep Orange county to the fore, are holding a conference this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the purpose of reaching a harmonious understanding relative to the county government bill pending before the state legislature.

Representatives are in attendance from the chambers of commerce of Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and Huntington Beach. President F. H. Case of the Santa Ana organization is chairman of the conference, as he was appointed to that office at the recent meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, which was held last Friday in Anaheim.

Mine Own

"How long would you be willing to wait for me?" she asked, in tones so low he could scarcely catch the words. And then she went on: "You know, George, my father has recently invested in a silver mine, and he is going there at once, and I cannot leave mother alone. So I ask you again, George, how long would you be willing to wait for me?"

"Wait for you, my darling?" repeated George, for his was no fleeting love. "I will wait for you until we learn how the silver mine turns out."

Advice to Alpine Climbers

In the earlier part of the nineteenth century many even of those who had been up Alpine peaks themselves denounced the sport. Regarding the ascent of Mount Blanc, Murray's Handbook in the year 1838 stated that "all who have succeeded have advised no one to attempt it," and nearly 20 years later noted the "remarkable fact that a large proportion of those who have made this ascent have been persons of unsound mind."

The Bitter Bit

A certain critic, renowned for his bitter tongue, found that on occasion even artists will turn. The occasion was a reception at which the artist was exhibiting his latest work.

"I should like to have your opinion of my picture," he said to the critic. "It's absolutely worthless," the other replied, shortly.

"Oh, I know that," pursued the artist, "but it would really interest me very much indeed."—Berlin Illustrated Times.

Prevention of Mildew

Nothing should be stored in a damp condition on account of mildew, which is a vegetable growth, being a kind of fungus, which quickly spreads, and is very difficult to remove. To remove it from flannel either is best to use. For mildew on cotton material, damp the part, rub soap thickly on, cover with powdered French chalk and put in the sunshine, and keep repeating the process until the spots disappear.

Music and the Drama

Bruce Gordon Kingsley

Arrangements have been completed for the appearance in the Grand Opera House of the eminent English musician, Bruce Gordon Kingsley, B. M., late director at the Alexandria Palace, London, who originated, after extensive travel and historical and musical research throughout the world, music travelogues, and illustrated grand opera lectures. In the American travel world the easy chair journeys made possible through John L. Stoddard, Dwight Elmendorf and Burton Holmes have made such descriptive travel excursions a household word, and they have become one of the most popular forms of instructive entertainment.

In England Bruce Gordon Kingsley is recognized as the leading and most brilliant mind in this field, for he has increased the enjoyment of the auditor by adding the elevating charm of music.

On March 12 and 13 will be given a series of these performances. A season ticket will be offered for the series; at least one hundred beautifully colored views, each a masterpiece of art, will augment the attractiveness of the music and the travelogues. The country traveled through will be described in an informal but interesting manner. Mr. Kingsley will discuss the composers of the country, at intervals playing numbers selected from such composers.

Anna Harper Mottram, dramatic soprano, who accompanies Mr. Kingsley on this tour, will be heard in vocal numbers, in costume. In the illustrated grand opera a reproduction will be seen of wonderful operatic performances given with all the magnificent scenic effects, showing world famous artists who have appeared in the principal roles. Mr. Kingsley will present the leading numbers of the opera on the piano. An autograph triple decker projector machine will be used, under the efficient hands of Mr. J. Penrose Wallace.

This important engagement was only made possible through the efforts of Clarence A. Gustlin, director of the Orange County Conservatory of Music.

BEGGING FOR SHOES AND LANDS IN JAIL

A young man who gives his name as J. T. Smith was taken into custody today by Officer Lucy on a charge of vagrancy. Smith had been going to back doors of residences and begging shoes. Another fellow named Elder, who was arrested two days ago while pursuing the same vocation, led the officers to suspect that the men had some other object in view besides the gathering of old shoes, inasmuch as both were well shod.

AUTO OWNER AND MACHINE ARRESTED

Although he claims that he represents "the papers and messages of the Presidents," a well dressed man about thirty years of age and giving his name as George Worthington, is resting in the county jail awaiting sentence by Justice Cox tomorrow morning on the acknowledged charge of having an automobile which he was operating in this city without the formality of having the required state license.

Worthington is receiving the attention of the sheriff's office because suspicion has arisen as to his conduct, although it is admitted that there is no complaint against him further than that of being without the official permit to operate his machine. To this accusation he pleaded guilty when taken before Justice Cox shortly before noon today. He was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriffs Law, Dean and Heard while his auto was standing in front of the Madison apartments, where he has a room.

The prisoner claims that he is an agent for the Navy Publishing Company of Washington, D. C., which publishes the standard work referred to. His machine has been placed in storage by the authorities and has been attached by County Assessor Sleeper for taxes. It is in charge of the West End Garage. If the taxes are not paid it will be sold as provided by law.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

ATTRACTIONS ARE TOO SEDUCTIVE FOR PETE

Prefers Confinement in County Prison Here Than to Be at Large Elsewhere

Peregrinating Pete, who is also known officially by the more dignified cognomen of George Elder, made his regular winter visit today upon Justice of the Peace Cox, accompanied by County Jailor Boynton, with whom he has enjoyed several years' intimate acquaintance. The fact of the matter is that Pete is the original "brake-beam tourist," and cannot keep away from Santa Ana.

"Aw, well, it's the climate," he informed Justice Cox this morning.

"Haven't I seen you before?" asked the court.

"Sure, I always come tuh Santa Ana," was the reply.

"When were you here before?"

"November 26," An' say, Judge, ye give me thirty days then," said Pete.

"Hum," murmured the court. "What for?"

"Vag," was the nonchalant but expressive answer.

"Seems to me you were here before that," continued the judge quizzically.

"Oh, I've been here before, awright, awright," said the visitor. "But I don't recall all de dates."

So Justice Cox looked up the records and found the following previous visits charged to the credit—or discredit—of George Elder:

July 25, 1911, charged with vagrancy and sentenced to 25 days' imprisonment.

November 13, 1911—Same charge, and 10 days' sentence.

November 26, 1912—Same charge, and 30 days.

March 5, 1913—Same charge and 30 days.

"Aw, well, I'd just as soon be in Santa Ana as any place else," chirruped the irresistible and persistent hobo as he was returned to the county jail.

Home, Sweet Home

All the comforts of home are enjoyed by Elina Avilla and Anastacia Aluna, whose domicile is in the vicinity of Delhi, but for good measure some of their neighbors declared they were indulging in exciting fistfights. Complaint was made to the sheriff's office, and Deputy Law brought the twain to Justice Cox for advice as to the straight and narrow path. The court admonished them to keep more peace and harmony on tap, and less of the rough house tactics, and with warning bade them move on their respective ways.

Held in $800 Bail

Sam Nettles, the Fullerton negro, charged with attempting to poison his stepdaughter, was arraigned before Justice Cox yesterday afternoon and held in $800 bail for trial.

Luther Held for Trial

Walter Luther, the Newport Beach man accused by his 14-year-old stepdaughter, Nora Kelley, was given his preliminary examination before Justice Cox this morning, and held in $7500 bail for trial in the superior court. District Attorney West took personal charge of the prosecution, while the defendant was represented by Clyde Bishop. The only witnesses examined were the girl and her mother, the latter now a resident of Wintersburg, and Dr. C. C. Violett of Garden Grove, who attended the girl at the time of her accouchement. Miss Kelley testified that Luther is the father of her child, which has been placed in an orphanage, while the young mother is being held at the Detention Home here. The accused has been unable to secure bail and has been held in the county jail ever since his arrest a couple of weeks ago.

DIVORCE SOUGHT BY ANAHEIM WOMAN

Mrs. Charles M. Field Charges
Husband With Desertion;
He Makes Denial

A divorce action occupied the attention of Judge West in the superior court all morning, the plaintiff being Mrs. Charles M. Field, of Anaheim, who alleges that she was deserted by her husband. Both parties are residents of Anaheim, and both were in court accompanied by their attorneys. Messrs. Melrose & Ames represent the plaintiff and Messrs. Tipton & Cailor the defendant, the quartette of lawyers also being residents of Anaheim.

The suit is being contested by the accused husband, who denies the allegation. Considerable property is said to be involved, and over its division there is decided difference of opinion. The plaintiff claims that she possessed the property before her marriage. The case was still on trial this afternoon.

For Trusteeship

Judge West today set March 18 as the date for hearing the petition of G. A. Whitney for appointment as trustee of the estate of Helen G. Whitney, who disappeared last November.

Stipulation Filed

A stipulation was filed today by the attorneys in the case of the Industrial Oil Company against Burdett Chandler, agreeing that the action now on file be passed on the calendar from time to time to be taken up on five days' notice from either side.

COUNTY ASSESSORS VISIT CITRUS BELT

On a tour of inspection in the citrus belt are County Assessor Sleeper and his staff of deputies this morning, so that together the officials may get the same views and ideas on the assessment of trees, the fixing of valuations, and the proper grading of citrus fruit holdings as possible. It was a sort of an educational trip, and all the members of the party agreed that it had the effect desired.

FIRST LOQUATS BRING THIRTY CENTS A BOX

ORANGE, March 5.—The first shipment of loquats this season has just been sent to market from the C. P. Taft ranch. It consisted of a single box, but it brought the top price of thirty cents a pound.

This is the highest price ever paid for this fruit, according to local authorities.

The loquat crop in this section is in excellent condition, having weathered the freezing spell very well. It is estimated that not more than a third of the crop was injured.

CREPES RIVAL COTTON VOILE

Cotton voile has a serious rival in the new crepes. To be sure, the voile washes far better than the crepe which has a most annoying habit of shrinking almost beyond the limits of endurance, but one can make allowances for this when buying or making the waist. This seeming defect almost vanishes from memory when one gazes at the new crepes, with their effective plumes and embroidery or rich Oriental borders. The blouse of plain white crepe has been lost sight of in the array of embroidered blouses.

The Bulgarian embroidery has been found most effective on these white crepe waists. The beauty of the Bulgarian embroidery lies wholly in the colorings, for there is no such thing as a distinctive Bulgarian stitch. Any embroidery stitch may be used, and almost any pattern, but the design must be outlined in black if it is to be called Bulgarian. The blending of the reds and blues, greens and yellows, into a crude but on the whole artistic combination is likewise characteristic of this type of embroidery.

CITRUS FRUIT MEN ENTER OPPOSITION

Officers of Sunset Exchange
Take Action Relative to Proposed Law

ORANGE, March 5.—The officers of the Sunset Fruit Exchange yesterday recommended that each of the seven associations forming the Exchange file protest with State Senator Anderson against Senate Bills 53 and 1081 and Assembly Bill 858. These associations are the Santiago Orange Growers' Association, Tustin Hills Citrus Association, Tustin Lemon Association, D. Hewes, McPherson Heights Citrus Association, Villa Park Orchards' Association and Central Lemon Growers' Association.

The first two bills mentioned relate to the selling articles of domestic growth or production, and if they became law, it is claimed would compel every shipper of citrus fruits to make uniform prices in California regardless of market conditions.

The purpose of the Assembly bill is declared to be to place all female workers under restrictions of the eight-hour law. Heretofore, workers in perishable fruits have been exempted. It is declared that the law would work hardship on both the packer and the employee.

FROST DETECTOR FREE TO ALL GROWERS

Inventor of Device of Great Value to Citrus Fruit Men
Is Generous

WAIVES ALL CLAIM TO PATENT RIGHTS

Deeds All Interest Direct to the Producers With Consent of Government

Frostless citrus fruit in the market
will soon be a thing of the past, unless people care to purchase it with full knowledge of its condition, and the result will be obtained without the payment of excessive patent royalties. Official announcement has just been made by the United States Department of Agriculture that patent rights worth between one and two million dollars have been irrevocably deeded to the citrus growers of this state by Vice-President Chase of the National Orange Company, whose water current fruit separator has just been given the official O. K. of the department as the best device yet offered for the separation of frosted
from unfrosted fruit.

Heretofore the alcohol test has been the most economical test for the detection of frosted fruit. The cost of this test ranges from 7 to 8 cents a box. With the Chase machine it is possible to make even more efficacious
tests at a maximum cost of 1 cent a box. Last year this state produced 13,800,000 boxes of oranges and 2,140, 000 boxes of lemons. Had it been necessary to apply the alcohol test
to this crop it would have cost the growers $1,115,800. With the Chase test the cost would have been but $159,400, a net saving of $956,400.

Chase, in asking the department of agriculture to test his machine, made it plain that he will waive all patent rights. As a result the department proposes to patent the machine and thus make it available without patent cost reservations to citrus growers.

This fact was manifested yesterday
by C. W. Mann, the department's expert in fruit handling and storage, who has been conducting experiments with the machine and pronounces it the best of its kind yet offered.

The principle of the machine is separation by specific gravity, frosted fruit being considerably lighter than unfrosted. The fruit is introduced into a hopper through which water passes at the rate of two feet a second. The heavy unfrosted fruit immediately sinks and is cast out by coming in contact with a baffle. The lighter frosted fruit is carried along
by the water and drops into a receptacle. The parts of the machine require the nicest adjustment to make the machine's work efficacious in the highest degree. It has been along the lines of nicety of adjustment that Mann has been working and he announces that the machine works within 1 per cent of absolute efficiency
with oranges, but rather more effectively with lemons, a smaller and more compact fruit.

IMPERIAL VALLEY COTTON AT FAIR

Marvelous Product of Land
Once Deemed Worthless Will Win Great Attention

SAN DIEGO, March 5.—An Imperial contribution to the display to be made at the San Diego exposition in 1915 is that of cotton from Imperial Valley. A recent compilation shows that the cotton production there is nearly one bale to the acre, and as the staple is of the very finest grade,
the price obtained therefor is the highest, making its production extremely profitable.

Not so many years ago the man who predicted that Imperial Valley
would become the place of the finest cotton in the United States, equalling
in whiteness and texture that of the Nile valley in Egypt, would have been pronounced incurable. Today
the eyes of the American textile world are upon this "worthless" land.

Of course cotton is not the only thing of great value Imperial Valley will contribute to the exhibit of the Southern California counties at the exposition, but it is the one article
that will be exclusive to that county,
and probably will attract more attention to Southern California than any other display, because the fruits and other products of this section are better known, and that cotton of finest quality is grown here as yet known to a limited number.

The southern counties are going ahead with exhibit plans and are arranging to begin erection of their building upon the foundation already in place, at an early date. There will be four California buildings on the grounds—the state buildings, and those of the Southern California
group of counties, the Sacramento Valley group of counties, and the central coast group of counties. No visitor to the exposition will be permitted to escape without thorough knowledge of the resources and opportunities of this state.

TRIED RECIPES

Smothered Sausages

Prick veal sausages, then lay in a baking pan. Press some boiled potatoes through a sieve, add a little butter, salt, pepper and milk, and spread over the sausages; then cover with one egg, beaten well, dust thickly with fine bread-crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for one half an hour.

Escalloped Corn and Lima Beans

If dried beans are used, they must be soaked in cold water for 12 hours
before being put on to boil tender.
This recipe calls for the canned corn and beans. Spread the bottom of a buttered baking dish with the uncooked canned beans, sprinkle them
with a little minced onion fried brown
in butter, cover with a layer of uncooked corn, dot with butter, season
with pepper, and add a layer of bacon cut in fine pieces and fried brown.
Then cover with tomato, pressed through a sieve, and finally on top of this spread an inch of fine cracker-
crumbs mixed with melted butter.
Cook for one half an hour in a moderate oven. Serve as soon as it is done.

Macaroni Baked with Oysters

Boil the macaroni in salted water until the ends split, which will insure its being tender. Drain off the water and place the macaroni, with alternate layers of raw oysters, in a buttered dish. Make a white sauce, using milk instead of water for its foundation, and pour over each layer of macaroni and oysters. Cover the top of the dish with fine bread-crumbs,
over which sprinkle grated cheese.
Bake in a moderate oven until the mixture is puffy and browned on top.

Lentils in Tomato Sauce

Soak the lentils over night; then set to boil in fresh water, to which add one-half a teaspoonful of soda.
When the water has boiled a few minutes, either remove to back of stove
or turn the gas down, cover the lentils
with fresh hot water and add a small piece of bacon; then cover and let the lentils simmer until tender. Drain off the liquor, which save for soup foundation. Next cut the bacon into pieces and cook brown, then add to the lentils in a baking-dish. Cover with a tomato sauce, spread with buttered bread-crumbs, and bake for 30 minutes in a hot oven. The tomato sauce is made by cooking the contents of one can of tomatoes with one small onion sliced very thin, three cloves, a bit of bay leaf, a few sprigs
of parsley and stalks of celery, until all but the cloves and bay leaf may be pressed through a sieve.—Ladies World.

EL TORO PIONEER PLEADING FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Whiting-Darrow-Perkins
Charges Her Husband With Mental Cruelty

Memories of the early days of El Toro are being revived by the appearance in the Los Angeles divorce court of Mrs. Emily S. Perkins, whose home was in that picturesque section of Orange county, and where she became the wife of Dwight Whiting, well known to the pioneers.

Mrs. Perkins is twice a widow, she having been the wife of Mr. Whiting and French-Darrow. Her third husband is Gregory Perkins, Jr., and she wishes to divorce him on the ground of mental cruelty. She alleges that soon after their marriage the defendant assumed a position of family dictator, claiming the power and right to decide what she should do and not do,
and where she should or should not go.
She says that for considerable lengths of time at different periods he continually kept himself with the plaintiff, not even leaving home long enough to attend business, all with the effect of worrying, harassing and annoying the plaintiff, materially adding to and accentuating her nervous condition, finally causing her to be ill
and to be threatened with a nervous collapse.

Her petition for divorce begins by reciting that there are no children as a result of the marriage, and that there is no community property. It ends by praying for a decree of divorce and that it be adjudged and decreed that there is no community
property of plaintiff and defendant,
but that all property standing in the present name of the plaintiff or in her former names be held as her separate property and distinct, in which the defendant has no interest, title
or estate. She also asks that her husband pay for the costs of this divorce action.

The rather subtle and delicate wording of the complaint threatens to establish a precedent in complaints of this character. It sets forth that during the years of her marriage and for many years prior thereto, if deprived of her regular sleep, or if awakened after going to sleep it would injuriously effect Mrs. Perkins and if carried far enough would cause her to become nervous and ill. She charges the defendant knew this, yet
after they had both announced their intention of retiring and after the plaintiff had retired the defendant
would take from one hour to one hour
and a half to prepare himself for bed
after she had gone to sleep and would then compel her to get up and engage with him in prayers, all adding to and accentuating her extreme distress of body and mind.

MICHIGAN PICNIC WILL BE ON MAR. 15

Former residents of Michigan are to picnic at Eastlake park, Los Angeles, on March 15. Santa Ana will send a large representation. C. S.
Shaw, of the Blade, president of the Orange County Michigan Society,
hopes to get enough people to go to fill three cars. Any former Michigan resident who wants to go to the picnic
should communicate with Shaw.

There are about 300 members of the society in Orange county, mostly from Santa Ana, Orange and Tustin. It is proposed to form a Michigan club in Santa Ana.

CARD OF THANKS

—We desire to give this public expression of the deep feeling of grate-tude we have in our hearts for the fridence and neighbors who so kindly ministered to us in our great loss of husband and father. We appreciate the love and sympathy expressed in the floral tributes, the notes of song
and the words of sympathy.

Accepts the Rebuke

A resident of an English city has made himself a marked man by insisting on saying "nought" instead of
"O" when he calls a telephone number having the cipher in it. The telephone operator usually corrects him
when he says "three double nought"
by saying "three double O." The other night he called up central and said, "Hello," and the girl replied:
"Hell-naught." He accepted meekly
the "quiet rebuke."—Springfield Republican.

New England Romance

From Boston comes the story of a touching phonograph romance. The manager of a store became infatuated
with the voice of a young woman
whose singing he heard reproduced frequently in the machines, wrote to her for her pictures, and the acquaintance speedily ripened into marriage.
The bride, by the way, was intending to study in Paris for grand opera, but has decided to settle down in New England.—San Francisco Argonaut.

STATE HIGHWAY BONDS SELL WELL

Banks of 8 Counties in State Buy Bonds to Extent of $800,000
at Sale Yesterday

SACRAMENTO, March 5.—California highway bonds to the extent of $800,000 went like waffles when placed on sale by State Treasurer Roberts yesterday afternoon. Banks of eight counties, San Mateo, Riverside, San Francisco, Eldorado, Sacramento, San Bernardino, Humboldt and Stanislaus, participated in the sale.

The sale of an additional $800,000
worth of highway bonds was authorized this evening at the meeting of the state engineering department advisory board. The board also awarded the contract for the construction of a road in Los Angeles county
from Rancho El Encino to Calabasas to John D. Marsh, whose price was $55,555.

LARGEST VOLUME OF WATER RAISED

ANAHEIM, March 5.—Of particular interest to Dr. Webber of the citrus experiment station at Riverside
during his visit here was his trip to the big pumping plant of the water company at Crowther's corner. Here he saw a volume of 450 inches being pumped from three wells in one pit,
which is probably the largest volume
raised by any plant for irrigation purposes in the world. The doctor was incredulous, and at first supposed the water was being raised from a reservoir beneath the plant. He asked many questions during his hour's ride
about the valley, a number of them being in connection with the water situation. As is well known, he is looking for a site of 200 acres for the new Southern California citrus experiment station. His conditions for a site are that the same be in the frostless belt
where underground water is abundant.

IMPROVEMENTS ON STREETS PROPOSED

City Trustees Determined That Cement Sidewalks and Curbs Shall Be Constructed

DELINQUENTS WILL GET SHORT SHIFT

Extensive Operations Will Be Started in Many Parts of the City

Notwithstanding the order issued by the city trustees some weeks ago,
a number of property owners have neglected to have cement curbs or sidewalks installed in front of their property, and to bring the matter to an issue the trustees propose to issue
an order next Monday night directing the immediate commencement of such improvements.

The only reason for further delay in this matter may be because of the city authorities' determination to include all properties that are in need of curbing and sidewalks. The determination is to get them all in and have the improvements all made as rapidly as possible.

The official list of improvements to be ordered, as prepared by City Attorney Heathman and City surveyor Finley, has already been approved by the city trustees, but final action of the list has been postponed until next Monday night so that additional streets may be included if necessary.

Cement sidewalks and curbs will be ordered in on the following streets
between the points indicated:

North side of East Third street between French street and the west line of the Jennings tract.

On both sides of East Washington avenue between the east line of the Boeteler tract and the Blodgett tract
to Custer street.

On the west side of South Flower

street to the north side of Highland street.

On both sides of East Second street
between Santa Fe and McClay streets.

On the north side of East Sixth street between Bush and Spurgeon
streets.

On the east side of Lacy street between East Fourth and East Fifth
streets.

On the south side of East Fifth street between Lacy and D streets.

On both sides of Camille street between South Broadway and South Birch.

On both sides of Garfield street between East First and East Fourth
streets.

On both sides of East Second street
between French and Garfield streets.

On both sides of West Sixth street between Garney and North Baker
streets.

On both sides of East Third street
between French and Lacy streets.

On the north side of East Walnut street between Evergreen and Minnie streets.

That a curb be constructed on the north line of East Sixth street between Bush and Spurgeon streets.

The Cause of Rheumatism

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism.
Charles P. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable
torment from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes:
"All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief, 50c

Remedy for Oak Poisoning

A very simple and effective cure
for poisoning from sumac, poison
ivy, or poison oak is obtained from Boracic acid. Bring a solution of the acid to the boiling point. Wring woolen cloths out of it and lay upon the affected part as hot as can be borne, covering with another woolen cloth to keep in the heat. When cool, repeat. Keep up for twenty minutes; then, wait two hours and repeat again. This helped my husband in a very severe case when everything else had failed, and the second day we were obliged to use it only three times. It does not burn as might be expected, but stops both the burning and the itching, and is very soothing.—I. B. M., Pasadena, Cal.

"Mix-Feed" is cheaper and more economical than any other feed on the market, because it costs less and goes farther. Only $1.35 per 80-pound sack. Olive Mills.

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most reliable cough remedy. Over three million bottles were used last year. Isn't this proof? It will rid you of your cough, or we will refund
your money. J. J. Owens, of Allentown, Pa., writes the way hundreds of others
have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds that I have ever used." For coughs or colds and all throat and lung troubles, it has no equal. 25c and $1.00 at all druggists.

REALTY OPERATORS GETTING TOGETHER

Santa Ana Boosters Propose Organizing
To Protect Both Themselves and the Purchasers of Real Estate

A score of progressive real estate men assembled in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last night and took preliminary steps toward the formation of a realty board for the advancement of both their own business and the interests of the men and women who buy property in this section. There was marked enthusiasm among all those in attendance, and a decided interest shown in all the proceedings.

To keep up with the march of progress, the realty operators here propose to get together for mutual protection and benefit. In this way they can also serve the public, and can by acting in harmony give better and more satisfactory all-around service. Persons dealing with a member of the Santa Ana Realty Board will be assured of honest and efficient consideration at all times and under all conditions.

The meeting was called to order by J. M. Cain, who briefly outlined the benefits that will accrue from a local realty board. There was a general interchange of views, but perhaps the most interesting incident of the meeting was an address delivered by James G. Stafford of Los Angeles, who is executive secretary of the California State Realty Board. It was decided before adjournment that another meeting should be held at the same place on next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when it is probable permanent organization will be effected.

Eugene Severance has been chosen temporary chairman, and W. J. Wells temporary secretary. A committee was also appointed to visit all the realty operators and invite them to attend the next meeting. These committeemen are Martin Smith, W. J. Wells, F. D. Drake and M. R. Scott.

To Protect Public
Secretary Stafford said that protection to the investing public, and the elevation of the real estate business to the plane of a profession, is the result anticipated in the passage of state legislation proposing to license real estate men in California. Three bills have been introduced in both houses of the legislature at Sacramento, under the auspices of the California State Realty Federation, which cover the plan, and which will, when passed into law, result in clarifying the business methods of many so-called real estate agents, and of assuring fair dealing, and honest representation with the investing public.

This series of bills, known as Senate Bills Nos. 1299, 1300 and 1301, and Assembly Bills 1244, 1245 and 1246, which were introduced concurrently, proposes to require every person who acts as a broker, agent, salesman or dealer in the state of California in any real estate transaction for a commission or compensation, shall obtain a certificate of registration and authority from the secretary of state before engaging in such business. The registration and license fees are to be $10.00 for the first year, and $5.00 for renewals each year thereafter.

Advertising Fund
Out of the fees collected a state advertising fund for the exploitation of the resources of the state of California before the homeseekers of the other parts of the United States and the world is created. This fund will be administered by a state advertising board, consisting of five registered real estate brokers, appointed by the governor, the two kindred bills named above providing the legislation for this work.

In speaking of the state realty license bill, Mr. J. L. Craig, of Stockton, who is the author of the act, says in a recent interview:

"The state realty license bill refrains from any attempt at monopolization of the real estate business. There are no restrictive features about the law, its best features being control of agents' actions through the power of revocation of the license for fraudulent dealing."

Our state has a recall and our bar disbarment. We now license fire insurance agents, auctioneers, hack drivers, and in fact almost every business or profession.

Fair for All
In our proposed bill we do not encroach upon the rights of any owners of property; we cannot encroach upon the rights of an attorney-at-law, we do not encroach upon power of attorney rights, nor do we take a cent of money from the state of California, but on the contrary give to the state of California approximately one hundred thousand dollars for advertising purposes annually.

The license bill should receive the undivided support of the law-makers, citizens and the press of the state of California. It aids the property owner in maintaining values which are being destroyed by the unscrupulous operator. It destroys the professional knocker and establishes confidence.

Until realty men, as a class, are by law made responsible for the acts, statements and representations they make to buyers and sellers of real property, the honest broker via labor under a disadvantage and the public will suffer.

If the proposed law can be made a really effective agency for the elimination of the undesirable from the real estate business, the legislature will confer a blessing upon the commonwealth of California by passing it.

The bill has the endorsement of thousands of real estate men from Siskiyou to San Diego. It is reasonable to the dealer, property owner and to the client, and no fair real estate man should desire more and no just real estate man less.

DOES YOUR APPETITE
FLAG AT THIS SEASON?

Fannie Merritt Farmer, cookery editor, Fannie Merritt Farmer, cookery editor, publishes in the February number of that periodical eleven recipes for appetizing dishes which she feels quite sure the vast majority of her readers do not know how to make. She says that at this time of year the appetite begins to flag and that the housewife is often puzzled to serve meals that will please the family. Following is one of the recipes:

"Cincinnati Coffee-Bread—Put one-third cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of butter, and one-half teaspoonful of salt in a bowl without a lip, and pour over one cupful of scalded milk. When mixture is lukewarm add one yeast-cake, broken in small pieces and dissolved in one-fourth cupful of lukewarm water, two eggs, slightly beaten, and enough bread flour, once sifted, to make a stiff batter. Beat thoroughly, cover and let rise until mixture has doubled in bulk. Cut down, beat thoroughly, and spread evenly in two buttered round layer-cake tins. Sprinkle with nut mixture, let rise, and bake in a hot oven thirty minutes. For the nut mixture mix two tablespoonfuls of sugar and three-fourths teaspoonful of cinnamon, and add three-fourths cupful of soft stale bread-crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, and three tablespoonfuls of chopped blanched Jordan almonds."

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET
The business of producing hot-house cucumbers for the winter trade is undergoing considerable expansion in the vicinity of Los Angeles during the past few years. Cucumbers are practically the only vegetable raised to any great extent by artificial means. Shipments are received pretty steadily at this time, and the price ranges around $1.75 to $2.00 a box. One producer alone is estimated to have about six acres under hot-house cultivation near the city.

The market is steadily better supplied with all varieties of vegetables. Shipments of cabbage are received from the north, and larger quantities of asparagus come in from the delta regions of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. Good celery is rather scarce, and sells around $5.00 to $4 per crate. The onion market was stronger yesterday. Potatoes continue at low prices, without any apparent sign of a change. Vegetables remain the principal source of interest on the market.

There is no particular change in the condition of the apple market. It has been benefited to some extent by the poor demand for oranges this week. This probably saved a big lump in prices. Bananas continue at low prices, owing to the competition and the poor eastern demand. Extras butter was up 1/2 cent yesterday, and continues somewhat higher than last year at this time. It is only a matter of a few weeks until a marked decline in prices will be witnessed, according to present predictions. Cheese was easier, owing to a falling off of 1/2 cent in San Francisco. A decline of about 1 cent is not unlikely locally. Eggs continue the same, without a prospect of aught but minor changes.

Reported prices: Eggs, 419; butter, 44.50; pounds; cheese, 10 pounds; potatoes, 1952 sacks; sweet potatoes, 42 sacks; apples, 4600 boxes.

ASSEMBLYMAN CLARK WOULD PROVIDE FOR A PERMANENT LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—"The best talent available is employed in upsetting our statutes, and it follows that we ought to have the aid of expert talent in framing them," says Assemblyman W. C. Clark of Alameda county, who introduced in the legislature the bill to create a legislative reference and counsel bureau.

Some thirty-seven hundred bills are now pending in the legislature, a tribute to legislative activity but not to wisdom.

"The flood of bills does not originate in the legislature," explains Mr. Clark. "It is individuals and organizations of citizens endeavoring to correct some real or fancied evil who forward their proposed solutions that are responsible for a vast majority of the bills submitted."

"Out of courtesy and out of consideration for constituents the members have fallen into the practice of introducing almost any measure that comes to them from a respectable source. It is frequently difficult to deny these requests, and the easiest escape for the legislator is to turn the bill in and let it disappear in the grip of the committees."

"I see that our friends, the enemy, have been totaling the appropriations of all these measures, fool and otherwise, and trying to make it appear that the progressive legislature is proceeding forthwith to loot the state. Such misrepresentation is too absurd to deserve a reply. When the committees get down to business the curb will be put on."

"One senator, for example, introduced a bill providing that all judges in the state should be appointed. Although it did not vest appointment in the governor, the poison press raised the cry that the bill was an administrative measure, and that the aim was to get hold of appointing power for all the judicial positions in order to build up a political machine."

"It transpired that the bill was introduced by request, that the senator himself did not favor it, and that Governor Johnson knew nothing about it until his attention was called to it and at once expressed an adverse opinion about the measure."

"We progressives are not going to escape, of course, the campaign of gross misrepresentation that is on. Whatever we do, there will be an abundance of detraction."

"For a better and freer consideration of legislative matters, however, there should be more study and investigation than is allowed under our present system. The flooding of the legislature with bills should be stopped. The resulting tendency is to produce ill considered or defectively framed legislation because the members are overtaxed with work; or, on the other hand it produces so much caution that the legislators refuse to act even on meritorious bills."

Mr. Clark believes that many of the faults of the present legislative system can be cured by the proposed reference and counsel bureau. Expert assistance for the legislators will greatly aid them in what they want to do, and also in not doing what they don't want to do. The bureau would serve in great degree to keep the fool bills out of the legislative machinery.

"Every well wisher of the better order of things so splendidly begun in California will welcome the movement in the present legislature to establish a legislative reference and counsel bureau," says Mr. Clark. "It is more intricate and more detail in statutes, and the economical and special problems with which legislation now endeavors to deal become more difficult. There are raised more questions of economic and legal principle upon which it is difficult to form a sound opinion than happened in a previous age of the world."

"It appears, therefore, to be more than ever necessary to accumulate all data that can possibly help us in the framing of good legislation. The most important and obviously necessary of those data are such as are furnished by the experience of the country itself. It is necessary to know what are the evils that exist, to consider and weigh different remedies that are proposed for these evils, and to consider how far legislation can deal with them. One can hardly overestimate the value of knowing not only what has been done in other countries, but also of knowing how the experiments other countries have tried are working out."

"Under the representative form of government we must expect that most members of the legislature will have little if any experience in the actual framing of legislation. With the assistance of such a bureau the people's representative can hope to cope on a somewhat equal footing with the paid and able lobbyists of special interests who, not by means of bribery, but by the very ability of their presentation, and in the absence of verifiable data in the hands of committee members, are often able to secure the enactment or defeat of the measure in which they are interested. Such a bureau would save an immense waste in avoiding the enacting of what has already proved ineffective elsewhere, and framing what is enacted so as to accomplish its purpose and make it least liable to misconstruction. It is surely as essential to have expert assistance of as high order in formulating legislation as is now had in interpreting and applying it."

"Those in charge of each division of the bureau must be thoroughly practical, not academic visionaries. The head of the data gathering division must be versed in political economy and social science and also have the unusual ability to put such information in usable and easily handled form. The head of the counsel division, besides possessing this wide view of legislative matters, should be one learned in the technique of the law, both substantive and remedial and have the rare ability, essential in formulating and drafting statutes, of clear, concise and exact expression in words of the intent and purpose of the legislator."

"The success of such legislative reference and counsel bureau will depend very largely upon what work is done by all concerned between the sessions of the legislature and when there is plenty of time to avoid hurry and haste in work. During the sessions of the legislature and for a suitable time before each session, special and ample help and facilities must be provided so that the tremendous strain during such sessions can be sustained without that total failure sure to come from overwork."

"The resources of the state library must be available to the bureau and its co-operation secured, but the best work cannot be done with such bureau a mere adjunct of any library. Such bureau must be sustained by the hearty co-operation of all departments of the state government and especially valuable can be the assistance of at least the two great universities (with their equipment for research and investigation) as a part of the school system of the state. The work of the bureau must be so handled as to enlist the sympathy and assistance of not only the office holders of the state but of the counties and municipalities and of the non-governmental organizations of the people. The bureau will then become a great clearing house for the people in all their varied efforts to understand and deal effectively with legislative matters."

"Only ignorance on the part of the people as to the subject or great apathy on the part of the legislature will prevent securing this much needed assistance."

GARDEN SAGE DARKENS GRAY HAIR SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

Restores Its Lustre, Prevents Scalp Itching, Dandruff
and Falling Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. While it is a messy, tedious task it well repays those whose hair is turning gray, faded and streaked.

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and seriously just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use.

This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody chooses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. It certainly helps folks look years younger and twice as attractive, says a well-known downtown druggist, Rowley Drug Co.—Advertisement.
